USL Rising

For the 2015 season, the USL has overhauled its identity to step forward as a professional soccer league that is fit for its partners, clubs, and fans, as the dawn of a new era rises.

The USL now boasts 24 clubs in the U.S. and Canada, and will see the debuts of new clubs in Austin, Charlotte, Colorado Springs, Louisville, Montreal, New York, Portland, Saint Louis, Salt Lake City, Seattle, Toronto, Tulsa, and Vancouver. The strategic expansion of the league has led to the development of more regional competition through the reduction of travel, and has further strengthened local and regional rivalries - the lifeblood of a strong professional league.

The digital evolution of the USL continues, as it has created an improved fan experience with a new online home that serves as the destination for in-depth coverage of the league. Increased interactive content includes videos, in-game statistics, and the league's all-new social media hub, and thanks to a partnership with YouTube Sports, all USL matches will stream live, free and in HD in 2015.

NuRock Soccer Holdings

NuRock Soccer Holdings acquired the USL from NIKE in August of 2009. Based in Atlanta, NuRock is led by Rob Hoskins and Alec Papadakis.

As Chairman of NuRock, Hoskins is one of the country's largest and most respected real estate developers in residential housing, and brings his valuable management and branding experience to the soccer industry. Papadakis, Chief Executive Officer and Managing Partner of NuRock Soccer Holdings, is a franchise attorney who played soccer both collegiately and professionally in the U.S.

The USL's day-to-day operations take place at its corporate headquarters in the thriving Westshore Business District, adjacent to Tampa International Airport. In addition to new headquarters, NuRock Soccer Holdings has enhanced the USL business model with the additions of experienced team services staff in the areas of league operations, creative services, communications & new media, marketing, video production, franchise & sponsorship sales, and registration.

USL Digital

USLsoccer.com
The USL has created an improved fan experience with a new online home that serves as the destination for in-depth coverage of the league. Increased interactive content includes videos, live games in HD on YouTube, in-game statistics, and the league's all-new social media hub.

USL on YouTube
Every 2015 USL game will stream live and free in high definition on YouTube. Live games and on-demand content will be available on each team's YouTube channel, with full game archives available shortly after the final whistle.

The USL YouTube Sports channel will also showcase fan favorites such as Goal of the Week and Goal of the Month, and USL Today, as well as new highlight packages that bring the best the league has to offer to its fans.

Republic FC Takes 2014 Title

Sellout crowd sees Sacramento cap inaugural season with 2-0 win vs. City Islanders

Sacramento Republic FC claimed the 2014 USL Championship as a goal in either half earned a 2-0 victory against the Harrisburg City Islanders in front of a sellout crowd at Bonney Field. Octavio Guzman and Tommy Stewart had the goals for Republic FC, which capped a remarkable inaugural season with a championship.

"It's amazing, man, it's something I can't explain my feelings," said Sacramento's Rodrigo Lopez, who was named Most Valuable Player after a standout performance that included the assist on Guzman's game-winning goal. "When the whistle blew, I just teared up, just from joy because of the hard work I've put in, that we've put in throughout the year. It's very deserved by my teammates."

The game opened at a frenetic pace, and Sacramento came close to an opening goal in the second minute when Justin Braun couldn't quite finish a cross from the right. Republic FC continued to probe down the flanks and produced a big chance in the 11th minute when a cross from the left was punched clear by Harrisburg goalkeeper Nick Noble, with the follow-up by Max Alvarez blocked on the goal line by Coady Andrews.

Sacramento again came close in the 15th minute when Braun was played in beautifully by Rodrigo Lopez on an angled pass into the penalty area. Braun's shot beat Noble, but caromed off the left post and was cleared to safety, keeping the game scoreless.

Harrisburg settled in, however, and had a big chance to take the lead at the half-hour mark as it broke forward on the right. A curling cross by Morgan Langley found Antoine Hoppenot eight yards out, but his header was brilliantly saved by Sacramento goalkeeper Jake Gleeson. Langley also had a big chance a minute later as he beat the offside trap, but elected to try and pass to Hoppenot rather than shoot, and Republic FC's defense was able to clear.

The missed opportunities came back to haunt Harrisburg when Sacramento took the lead nine minutes before the break. Lopez was again the architect, as he chipped a pass forward that found Octavio Guzman breaking from midfield, and the Mexican finished his chance clinically into the right corner from the top of the penalty area.

Braun almost added a second two minutes later as he won a 50-50 with Harrisburg's Richie Marquez, only to shoot over the crossbar from 20 yards, but Republic FC maintained its lead until the halftime break.

Sacramento opened the second half on the front foot, and Mickey Daly went close to a second with a flick three minutes after the break. Braun continued to be a threat and sent a curling shot wide of the top-left corner, and put pressure on the Harrisburg back four as they tried to possess the ball.

Harrisburg had a good spell midway through the second half as Marquez had a header go just wide of the right post of the right from Jamiel Hardware's free kick. McLaughlin also threatened but was repelled well by Daly and Nemanja Vukovic as he attacked at pace. Vukovic in particular lived up to his USL PRO Defender of the Year billing, as his was another excellent performance in a game full of them for Republic FC.

"The thing is, it's a group effort," Republic FC coach Preki said. "Everybody is responsible, everybody was committed on every single play. Yeah, we made a couple of mistakes, but that's going to happen because we're an attacking team, we're going forward, we're pushing forward, and we're creating chances. That's what people want to see, that's what I want to see, attacking football, and at the end of the day it paid off."

Republic FC continued to carve out chances, however, and could have doubled its lead in the 68th minute as Lopez found space just inside the penalty area, only to send his shot over the crossbar. Stewart also went close on multiple occasions after coming on a second-half substitute, the best with eight minutes to go as he rounded Noble, but sent his finish high from the left side of the penalty area.

Harrisburg pushed forward for one final hurrah, and Robbie Derschang had an appeal for a handball waved away in the penalty area in the 89th minute. Republic FC almost became its own worst enemies a minute later as Klimenta's header back was clawed away for a corner by Gleeson to prevent an own goal, but in stoppage time Stewart put the game away and sealed the championship.

For Lopez, the club's first official signing, the victory capped a brilliant first season for the ambitious young club.

"It means a lot," Lopez said. "Being in USL, it's such a competitive league now, and to be here and win a championship in such a competitive league, it says a lot, and hopefully MLS sees the hard work that everyone's putting in here."

USL, MLS Continue Groundbreaking Partnership

When Major League Soccer and the USL announced a groundbreaking, multi-year partnership in early 2013 designed to enhance the development of professional players in North America, the ramifications for the two leagues, and the sport as a whole, were yet to be fully understood.

Two years later, the partnership between the two leagues cannot be viewed as anything other than a resounding success. With the 2015 season set to see full integration between the two leagues – with MLS clubs either partnering with current USL clubs or entering their own side in the USL – both leagues have seen positives on and off the field.

2014 saw the addition of the LA Galaxy II to the USL, the first team in league history to be owned and operated by an MLS club. In all, the Galaxy sent 14 players on loan from their first team to Los Dos, including six Homegrown Players, who recorded more than 12,000 minutes of action and 38 goals in the regular season as the club finished third in the USL standings.

The Galaxy II's success prompted seven additional MLS clubs to enter their own sides for 2015, with teams such as the Timbers 2, Sounders 2 and Real Monarchs all eager to emulate the success Los Dos found on the field.

"The addition of seven MLS teams is a testament to the success that the Galaxy had in terms of getting some of their players really meaningful game time in a proper professional league," USL President Jake Edwards told ESPN.com. "Some of those guys have even got back in the first team and played in MLS Cup. For them it was a huge success."

The USL has also seen substantial growth in its ranks in independent clubs, with new teams in Austin, Charlotte, Colorado Springs, Louisville, Saint Louis and Tulsa looking to emulate the success of Sacramento Republic FC, which claimed the league championship in its inaugural season. With a strong business model and outstanding front office leadership, the USL has become the league of choice for investors looking to build a professional club from the ground up in North America.

"We believe our goal of building a strong league that puts an emphasis on regional rivalries and a continued elevation of play through our partnership with MLS, has resonated with the new ownership groups that have joined the league," Edwards said. "The league has raised its standards on and off the field each season, and in 2015 is set to offer fans the highest level of competition on the field the league has seen since its formation."

If the past two years – with interleague play between teams in the USL and the MLS Reserve League – was a prelude, the next chapter in the USL's history will see the league quickly reach all of the on- and off-field goals it set forth when its partnership with MLS began only two years ago.

About the U.S. Soccer Federation

As the governing body of soccer in all its forms in the United States, U.S. Soccer has played an integral part in charting the course for the sport in the USA for 100 years. In that time, the Federation's mission statement has been clear and simple: to make soccer, in all its forms, a preeminent sport in the United States and to continue the development of soccer at all recreational and competitive levels.

From a viewership standpoint, nearly 20 million Americans watched the Round of 16 match at the 2010 FIFA World Cup on television. Soccer-specific stadiums have opened their doors to resounding success. The National Training Center in Carson, Calif., in its 10th year of existence, has been a valuable facility for all levels, including the U.S. Soccer Development Academy, which kicked off at the state-of-the-art complex with much fanfare in 2007.

In 1989, the U.S. Men's National Team had not played in a World Cup in 40 years and the U.S. Women's program was in its early stages. U.S. Soccer was playing games in small stadiums that did not reach capacity, few matches were televised, soccer-specific stadiums were yet to be created and there were no high-level professional outdoor leagues.

Since that time, the state of U.S. Soccer has evolved significantly. Entering 2015, the U.S. MNT played in seven consecutive FIFA World Cups and advanced to the quarterfinals at the 2002 event. U.S. Soccer is a world leader in women's soccer at every level, and the U.S. WNT has won two FIFA Women's World Cups and four Olympic Gold Medals – an accomplishment that no other country on the men's and women's side has reached in Olympic competition. The United States has also hosted three World Cups with the support of its members and strong organizational abilities.

From a coaching standpoint in the United States, more classes are continually being offered around the country, and the number of licensed, well-educated trainers and managers is larger than ever. The education level among coaches has been tailored to match the expanding pool of talent in the U.S.

U.S. Soccer continues to set positive trends for referees in CONCACAF, with reinvigorated focus on education and training, including the realm of professional referees. In 2012, U.S. Soccer and MLS created the Professional Referee Organization (PRO) to manage the referee program in professional soccer leagues in the U.S. and Canada. The creation of PRO has been designed to increase the quality of officiating in U.S. and Canadian professional leagues, develop more professional quality officials at a younger age and develop officials who will represent the United States and Canada in FIFA competitions.

Participation in soccer continues at high levels among both youth and adults, with more than 4.3 million registered players among the 24 million participants in the sport, according to the FIFA Big Count.

2014 U.S. Open Cup Review

Rhinos Excel in 2014 Open Cup

The Rochester Rhinos added another chapter to their outstanding history in the Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup in 2014, as they defeated the defending champions D.C. United to finish as the final USL club standing in the tournament.

The Rhinos, who remain the lone non-MLS side to win the tournament in its modern era, needed extra time in the third round to advance past standout PDL club Reading United AC as Colin Rolfe's late goal earned victory. Rolfe's heroics continued in the fourth round, as he provided the only goal to defeat United at Sahlen's Stadium.

Despite Rolfe's third goal in as many games, however, the Rhinos came up short in a 2-1 defeat against the New England Revolution in the fifth round, as the MLS Cup Finalist got first-half goals by Saer Sene and Kelyn Rowe to advance.

Other USL clubs had close calls with MLS sides in the tournament, as Arizona United SC took the lead against the LA Galaxy before falling 2-1, and the Harrisburg City Islanders almost upset the Philadelphia Union before being eliminated in extra time. USL champions Sacramento Republic FC also held the lead against the San Jose Earthquakes, but was reduced to 10 men as it fell 2-1 in the fourth round.

USL

RULES

Rules

Master Roster

The master roster consists of up to thirty (30) eligible and/or ineligible players and is the official player roster of the team as set by the USL.

- A maximum of seven (7) players on the master roster may be foreign players.
- A professional team must carry twelve (12) or more professional players on their master roster.

Academy Players

In addition to the thirty (30) eligible and/or ineligible players allowed on the master roster, a team may register up to five (5) academy players. Academy players do not count against the twenty-six (26) players on the master roster and are allowed to participate in all competitions. To be considered an academy player, all of the following must be in place: a) player is under the age of twenty-one (21) as of the official start date of the current season, b) player cannot compete (or have ever previously have competed) in any NCAA or NAIA university or college soccer program, and c) player has never been signed or registered as a professional soccer player as recognized by FIFA. Academy players do count against a team's maximum of seven (7) foreign players. Academy players must be registered as an amateur (only) with the USL team or its formally-recognized MLS affiliate.

Roster Freeze

The USL has a Roster Freeze Date after which no team may register any new players. For 2015, the date is September 1.

Transfer Windows

FIFA will not register player transfers that take place outside of the following transfer windows:

- February 18 through May 12 (primary window)
- July 8 through August 6 (secondary window)

Amateur Player Definition

An amateur player is defined by the following: A player who does not receive payment for playing soccer and who has signed an amateur registration form with U.S. Soccer or the Canadian Soccer Association. Amateur players may be reimbursed for certain expenses as allowed by USSF/CSA/NCAA rules.

Point System

The standard FIFA (3-1-0) system awards three points for a regulation or overtime victory. In the case of a tie, each team will be awarded one point.

Game Clock

All games are comprised of 90 minutes (two 45-minute halves). No overtime is utilized during the regular season.

Extra Time

Regular Season – There will be no extra time during the regular season. For Playoffs, if the match ends in a draw the FIFA Rules of the Game for extra time will apply. Two fifteen (15) minutes periods of extra time will occur and if the match is still tied penalty kicks will follow to determine a winner.

Laws of the Game

All games under League jurisdiction shall be played according to the rules and regulations recognized by the USL, which shall be the same rules set by FIFA and the USSF, except for those exceptions authorized by FIFA and the USSF.

Substitutions

USL teams are allowed a maximum of five (5) substitutions. A player who has been replaced by a substitute may not return to the field in the same game.

Standings Tiebreakers

The following guidelines will be used to implement USL tiebreakers for all ties involving three or more teams:

1. The tiebreaker will determine the winner first.
2. The tiebreaker will continue within the same category to determine if other ties can be broken.

Breaking Ties in the League Standings – The breaking of ties in the final standings, playoffs and finals is accomplished by applying the following criteria, in order of importance:

1. Head-to-head record based on total points in League games. (A, B)

2. Total wins in League games.

3. Goal difference in League games. If number of games is unequal, the Game Average(C) will be used.

4. Goals scored in League games.

5. Total points within smallest group (D). If number of games is unequal, then point percentage (E) will be used.

6. Ranking based on points earned against top four group finishers. This tiebreaker will not be used if four (4) or fewer teams comprise the group. If number of games is unequal, then point percentage applies.

7. Point percentage outside / smallest division or conference in League games.

8. Total points in all regular season and Open Cup qualifying games combined. If number of games is unequal, then point percentage applies.

9. FIFA Fair Play – Team with fewest disciplinary points in League games. (If number of games is unequal, points will be divided by games played to arrive at a common basis for comparison.)

10. Lottery conducted by the USL.

A. League games refer solely to games that count towards the regular season standings.

B. Should more than two (2) teams involved have played each other an unequal number of times, this tiebreaker will be skipped.

C. Game Average = Tiebreaker / number of games played (i.e. goals scored / number of games played).

D. Grouping = term used to describe the primary unit in which a team competes (i.e. Southwest Division).

E. Point Percentage = number of total points earned / maximum possible points (3 per game)

Schedules
USL teams will face each of their conference opponents at least twice during the 28-game regular season schedule. The additional six games (beyond the standard home and away against the other 11 intra-conference foes) will be matchups against geographic rivals resulting in several cross-conference contests.

Playoffs
The 2015 USL Playoff format shall be a 12-team playoff. The top six teams from each conference make the playoffs. The teams are seeded 1-6 within each conference based on how many points they accumulated during the season. Tiebreakers will be used if necessary. The #1 and #2 seeds will be given first-round byes. The #3 and #4 seeds will host the #6 and #5 seeds, respectively. The winner of the #3 vs. #6 seed game will play the #2 seed and the winner of the #4 vs. #5 seed game will play the #1 seed. The conference winners will meet in the USL Championship. The playoffs will be played during four (4) weekends (one round per weekend) beginning the weekend after the regular season finishes. The playoff matches shall be a single leg with the team with higher seed hosting the playoff game. The playoff bracket shall be fixed and there will be no reseeding.

HISTORY

History

USL (formerly USL PRO) was formed when two existing professional leagues were combined into a single league property prior to the 2011 season. The league was designed to help ensure the long-term stability of professional soccer in North America, and featured 12 teams in a pair of six-team divisions during its initial campaign. Among the league's founding members were six longtime USL clubs with more than 100 years of operation between them – the Charleston Battery, the Charlotte Eagles, the Harrisburg City Islanders, the Pittsburgh Riverhounds, the Richmond Kickers and the Rochester Rhinos.

It was one of the newcomers that shone brightest that season, as Orlando City finished atop the standings and prevailed in penalty kicks in a thrilling championship game against the Harrisburg City Islanders. Even more impressive was Orlando City's ability to connect with the community, as it saw more than 11,000 fans fill the Citrus Bowl for that inaugural championship match.

At the forefront of Orlando's success was 2011 Most Valuable Player Yordany Alvarez. The Cuban holding midfielder may not have had the statistics of other candidates for the league's top honor, but his consistency earned him plaudits from throughout the league, and saw him make the move to Real Salt Lake of MLS in the offseason. Rookie of the Year Luke Mulholland also saw his star rise after an outstanding year for the Wilmington Hammerheads, who finished second in the regular season standings, with the former PDL standout beginning his path to MLS that would also see him join RSL's ranks.

On the field Orlando City only got better during the 2012 season, and once again topped the regular season table, losing only once and creating a 16-point gap between its closest competitor. However, the fifth-seeded Hammerheads pulled off one of the league's greatest upsets in the semifinals, charging out to a 3-0 advantage and holding on for a 4-3 victory to eliminate the defending champs. The Hammerheads traveled to meet No. 3 Charleston in the final, with the hometown Battery pulling out a 1-0 victory to take the title.

The Battery were led to the championship by the duo of Nicki Paterson - who finished the season second in the league with 10 goals - and Rookie of the Year Jose Cuevas, who claimed Championship Game MVP honors as his assist set up Michael Azira for the winner against Wilmington. Azira built on a successful rookie season, and joined Seattle Sounders FC before the 2014 MLS season.

Elsewhere, the Charlotte Eagles, Dayton Dutch Lions and Harrisburg City Islanders all made runs to the quarterfinals of the U.S. Open Cup, as Eagles goalkeeper Clint Irwin in particular shone as he led his side past MLS opposition. Irwin's performances paid off in the winter, as he signed with the Colorado Rapids, and after early-season injuries quickly ascended to become the team's No. 1 goalkeeper.

The 2013 season brought a new energy to the USL as it entered into a groundbreaking partnership with Major League Soccer that saw all 13 USL teams compete in two inter-league games against MLS Reserve League opponents. Additionally, the first MLS-USL affiliations saw direct working relationships between D.C. United and the Richmond Kickers, the New England Revolution and the Rochester Rhinos, the Philadelphia Union and Harrisburg City Islanders, and Sporting Kansas City and Orlando City.

On the field, Orlando City saw its two-season hold on the top of the standings ended by the Richmond Kickers, who used a league record 24-game unbeaten streak to finish one point ahead of Orlando. This time the Kickers were the victims of the major playoff upset, as the No. 5 Charlotte Eagles defeated them 2-1 in the semifinals to earn a spot in the 2013 championship match. Orlando City made it two titles in three years, however, as Sporting Kansas City loanee Dom Dwyer scored four goals in a 7-4 win against the Eagles to earn MVP honors.

Dwyer, who went on to help Sporting KC claim MLS Cup later in the year, was not the only player to benefit from his time in the USL. Brian Ownby played a key role for Richmond on loan from the Houston Dynamo, while goalkeeper Andrew Dykstra claimed Goalkeeper of the Year honors for the Kickers on loan from D.C. United. Most Valuable Player Jose Angulo and Dwyer also set a new league record with 15 goals apiece in the regular season, while Angulo's teammate with the Pittsburgh Riverhounds also set a new league mark with 12 assists as the Steel City saw soccer-specific Highmark Stadium open for its first season.

The MLS-USL partnership truly began to blossom prior to the 2014 season as the league welcomed the first MLS owned and operated team – the LA Galaxy II. The western expansion push also included the additions of Arizona United SC, OKC Energy FC and Sacramento Republic FC, as the 14-team league stood poised for explosive growth.

Orlando City, which had been announced as the 21st MLS franchise prior to the season, claimed its third regular-season crown in four years, but Sacramento became the real story of the season. Never once behaving like an expansion team, Republic FC rode the strength of 17 consecutive home sellouts and a league attendance record to a second-place regular season finish, capping its amazing year with a 2-0 win in the title game against the Harrisburg City Islanders at Bonney Field.

Leading the way for Republic FC was former Portland Timbers player Rodrigo Lopez, who claimed championship MVP honors after being nominated for league MVP. The man that claimed that award, however, was Orlando City's Kevin Molino, who smashed the previous record with 20 goals in an unforgettable season that saw him claim his second MVP honor. Signed to an MLS contract prior to the season, Molino was joined by Lions stalwart Luke Boden as the club moved into the top flight of North American soccer in 2015.

The USL also saw the introduction of new, young stars. A pair of U.S. U20 internationals, the LA Galaxy II's Bradford Jamieson IV and Orlando City's Tyler Turner, were both nominated for Rookie of the Year, and are set to be followed by many other young stars as they make their way into the professional seasons in 2015 and beyond.

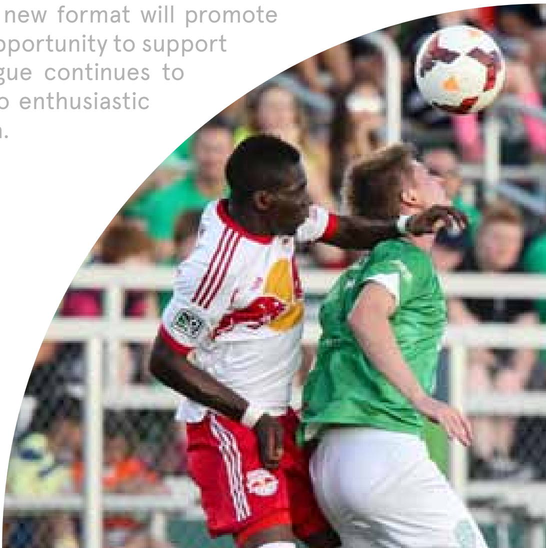

The Rookie of the Year award was claimed by Rochester's John McCarthy, however, who also earned Goalkeeper of the Year for his stellar season for the Rhinos. McCarthy's standout performance, and strong preseason, saw him sign with the Philadelphia Union and make the move to Major League Soccer.

Spurred on by the success of the LA Galaxy II, seven more MLS clubs placed teams in the USL following the 2014 season, with the Montreal Impact (FC Montreal), the New York Red Bulls, the Portland Timbers (Portland Timbers 2), Real Salt Lake (Real Monarchs SLC), Seattle Sounders FC (Seattle Sounders FC 2) Toronto FC (Toronto FC II), and Vancouver Whitecaps FC (Vancouver Whitecaps FC 2) all joining.

Pushing the league lineup to 24 teams for 2015, other new additions included the Austin Aztex, Charlotte Independence, Colorado Springs Switchbacks FC, Louisville City FC, Saint Louis FC, and Tulsa Roughnecks FC. While Austin made the move up from the PDL, the Independence replaced the Charlotte Eagles, who moved back down to the PDL after 20 professional seasons.

The USL was split into 12-team Eastern and Western Conferences in 2015, with teams facing each of their conference opponents at least twice during the 28-game regular season schedule. The additional six games (beyond the standard home and away against the other 11 intra-conference foes) are matchups against geographic rivals resulting in several cross-conference contests.

"Transitioning to a conference-based structure is consistent with our long-term growth strategy and enabled by the rapid expansion of the league," USL President Jake Edwards said. "This new format will promote regional rivalries, allowing fans greater opportunity to support their clubs home and away as the league continues to bring its brand of professional soccer to enthusiastic markets throughout the U.S. and Canada.
